BUSINESS VALUATION

LOST PROFITS DAMAGES

Terry brings 25+ years of experience providing business valuations, financial analysis, and lost profits damage analysis for businesses and individuals covering a broad range of industries.

His skillset is focused on the valuation of business entities (primarily related to ownership interests in privately held companies) covering a multitude of industries and sizes. His experience also includes fair value analysis of intangible assets for financial reporting purposes and valuations for ESOP-related purposes. Terry also brings extensive experience determining financial damages, including lost profits in various types of litigation cases, and performing blockage discount analysis of publicly traded securities.

Terry has previously conducted business valuation and financial advisory services for a national valuation firm for nearly 20 years. Additionally, he served as the director of valuation services providing business valuation and litigation support services for a regional accounting and consulting firm in San Antonio, Texas for six years.

Prior to his business valuation career, Terry spent four years as a certified public accountant (CPA) with a local public accounting firm in Portland, Oregon. As a CPA, Terry provided tax and audit services for individuals, small and medium sized businesses, and company profit sharing and retirement plans.
