Anya Bolshakov is a highly skilled accountant with 15+ years of experience at financial institutions, large companies and smaller organizations.

Anya manages our internal accounting, billing and financial reporting while also helping to implement new software and tools. As someone with impeccable attention to detail, she has a strong commitment to accuracy and loves reconciling financials to keep things in order.

She enjoys solving puzzles and is always looking for ways to improve processes. Anya appreciates how looking at numbers in the books can help tell the story of a company and its growth trajectory over time.

Prior to joining our firm, Anya worked with a local accounting firm as a bookkeeper where she also supported the tax preparation department.
